"I just made back the entire cost of the system in my first two positions that were half orders 😊 I bought puts on IBM and BBY yesterday late morning and cashed out this morning for a quick double on both of them. Thing is, had I gone normal size ($3,000 per order), I would have made $6,000, but I am learning so I went small. Very nice way to start, I really like the system! Thanks again!
best,

Michael"... 5 Days Later...

"...All anyone wants is a good simple system for making money (by the way, I made $13,000 this morning and cashed out 😊
If you give us the meat of the system, short and sweet with enough explanations...Aug 18 Update regarding a clever tweak done using this system:... I should have turned $30,000 [started in may of same year] into $1,000,000 by December 13th just using that system, so I will definitely keep you updated...

"I just wanted to let you know that System B caught that Potash move this morning! I am rich!!!!
Thank you so much for giving me this freedom! I don't know how to express my gratitude! I hope someday I can repay your kindness for sharing this system! "

I ended up buying 100 contracts at 1.22 and got out at 25.30 and slightly broke some money management rules but not that bad. 100 contracts is alot for me but I just got so tired of being a wuss and being scared all the time and I figured I just have to do it. I'm definitely feeling the "crack high" but I'm completely out of the position. I've been doubting the system, and maybe my ability to trade the system for awhile, thinking that it was too good to be true. I now (finally!) have to accept that this system works. I was worried it was all a scam in the beginning! I have listened to all of Chris's audios so I remember him saying to own some stuff and pay off debts. I just have to pay off my car and I will put the rest in the bank. You can use whatever testimonial you would like. You guys are amazing and I'm so thankful for this good fortune."

Results will vary from student to student depending on the correct use of the system and the actual use of the system. Many never use the system. Some never consistently apply the system. Stock and options choice will vary in the results they product. We can not promise you any future success since we are dealing with price markets. Our, your best bet for success is in taking a chance on a system that has performed well consistently over time in the hopes, possibility and probability that that systems performance, in combination with your performance of that system will due well at the present and into the future....
